LONG ISLAND LUXURY

BY LORI MORRIS

Long Island Luxury is an award winning masterfully designed residence that embodies sophistication, grandeur, and modern refinement. Every space within the home is meticulously curated, blending opulent materials, custom furnishings, and striking architectural details to create a seamless flow of elegance and functionality.

The entrance foyer is designed to make a striking first impression, embodying the grandeur and sophistication of a luxury hotel lobby. Suspended from the high ceiling, a cascading chandelier which resembles a string of pearls is composed of 6 strands of over 450 glowing orbs creating a dramatic yet ethereal ambiance. The black and white checkered porcelain floor immediately sets the tone, the high-gloss finish reflects natural light streaming in from the surrounding windows, enhancing the sense of openness and luminosity within the space. Against the sculptural curved staircase, a custom-made white sofa is perfectly scaled to fit the proportions of the room. The sofa is adorned with bespoke throw pillows, matched with a complementing side table featuring a delicate glass rose top and a gold metallic base offering a subtle yet impactful design element.

The dining room is a masterful composition of elegance, luxury, and modern refinement, carefully curated to create a space that feels both intimate and grand. At the heart of the room, three custom-made jewel chain chandeliers hang in perfect alignment, their intricate design adding a sense of opulence and sophistication. These luminous fixtures cast a warm glow over the expansive custom-made Lori Morris dining table, which boasts a cream gloss lacquer finish that enhances the room's airy and polished aesthetic. Surrounding the table, a set of custom-made dining chairs are thoughtfully designed for both comfort and style.

The great room is a bold yet refined and is masterfully positioned seamlessly linking the surrounding spaces into a cohesive flow. To one side, the great room opens effortlessly into the kitchen allowing for a natural extension of everyday living and social gathering. The opposite sightlines carry directly into the dining room, which remains partially in view, creating a layered effect that invites exploration. This open yet curated layout allows the great room to function as both a central gathering space and a transitional hub. At the heart of the seating arrangement sits a striking custom-made coffee table from the Lori Morris Collection, a low-profile statement piece that balances natural wood and high gloss black lacquer in a sleek, architectural form. Above, a dazzling chandelier cascades from the ceiling like a luminous sculpture, reflecting light in every direction and elevating the room with theatrical elegance.

Beyond the great room, a hidden lounge is revealed behind a sleek white pocket door, leading into an opulent and intimate space designed for luxurious entertaining. The focal point of the lounge is a stunning pink onyx bar, its dramatic veining and translucent surface exuding warmth and sophistication. The full-sized bar serves as a striking centerpiece, complemented by custom-made Lucite stools with black and white pinstripe velvet cushions, balancing the softness of the pink hues with a bold and structured contrast. Above the bar, three dazzling crystal chandeliers, custom designed to resemble baguette cut diamond rings, cascade light across the room, casting a warm glow and creating a sense of opulence and sparkle.

The walls are wrapped in a soft blush snake print textured wall covering that offers a warm and subtly elegant backdrop creating a bold contrast to the black frames of the doorway and windows with floor to ceiling custom stitched curtains composed of alternating vertical panels in white and black adds architectural rhythm and theatrical flair. Adjacent to the bar, a floor-to-ceiling custom-built sofa banquette, clad in plush pink velvet, provides an abundance of comfortable seating for intimate gatherings. Beneath the seating area, a white rug with bold black swirls ties the space together, its modern abstract pattern harmonizing both sides of the room reinforcing the sophisticated palette.

Every element of Long Island Luxury speaks to a careful balance of boldness and softness, tradition and modernity, luxury and livability. The home is a true testament to bespoke design, where every space feels cohesive yet distinct, ensuring an experience of unparalleled elegance and comfort.
