

THE FINEST HOMES, TRAVEL AND LIFESTYLE Vol. 32 No. 4

INTERNATIONAL PROPERTY

& Travel

INSIDE:
Asia Pacific's Best
Awards Supplement

Island Time

Homes in the Bahamas

Canadian Concepts

Trends shaping the property market

Dubai
Yachting
Motoring
Jewellery

Compliments of

Interior Affairs

Distinct interiors shaped by mood, material and a sense of place

Image - Boca Bliss by Lori Morris Design

Lori Morris Design
► www.lorimorris.com

RESORT LIVING

A RESORT-INSPIRED RESIDENCE, BOCA BLISS MERGES CLASSIC DETAIL WITH MODERN EASE

Boca Bliss is a residential project thoughtfully designed to provide a private resort destination experience. Comfortable, easy living with every imaginable amenity was the prerequisite for this deluxe renovation, where family and friends gather to reconnect for good food, entertainment and music.

The overall interior design and architecture of this home is a combination of classical elegance and modern luxury, resulting in spaces that feel both grand and intimately curated. Each room reflects an attention to detail, where rich materials, bold colours, and intricate finishes work in harmony to create a cohesive aesthetic.

The main entrance foyer, with its sweeping staircase and bold use of blue velvet wall panels, immediately sets the tone for the rest of the house, combining opulence with a sense of welcoming grandeur. Throughout, white millwork and plaster detailing add classical contrast to dark wood floors, contemporary furnishings, and striking textures.

In the piano room and bar lounge, dramatic palettes and luxe materials establish a mood of indulgence, while the family and living rooms shift toward softness and warmth. Across the home, curated pieces and dynamic lighting, along with modern and traditional elements, define a space that is both timeless and deeply personal.